

Resident Rights

& Responsibilities

Secretary of HUD

This brochure does not apply to the Public Housing Program, the Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Program (except for multifamily housing projects that are insured by HUD), and the Housing Choice Voucher Program (except when a voucher is used in a multifamily housing project with a HUD-insured mortgage).

You, as a resident (tenant), have rights and responsibilities that help make your HUD-assisted housing a better home for you and your family.

This brochure is being distributed to you because the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, which has ultimate jurisdiction over the project in which you live, has provided some form of assistance or subsidy for this apartment building. As part of its dedication to maintaining the best possible living environment for all residents, your HUD field office encourages and supports the following:

- Management agents and property owners communicate with residents on any and all issues.
- Owners and managers give prompt consideration to all valid resident complaints and resolve them as quickly as possible.
- Residents' right to organize and participate in the decisions regarding the well-being of the project and their home.

Along with your owner/management agent, you play an important role in making your place of residence—the unit (apartment), the grounds, and other common areas—a better place to live and in creating a community you can be proud of.

This brochure briefly lists some of your most important rights and responsibilities to help you get the most out of your home.

Your Rights

As a resident of a HUD-assisted multifamily housing project, you should be aware of your rights.

Rights

Involving Your Apartment

- The right to live in decent, safe, and sanitary housing that is free from environmental hazards such as lead-based paint hazards.
- The right to have repairs performed in a timely manner, upon request, and to have a quality maintenance program run by management.
- The right to be given reasonable notice, in writing, of any nonemergency inspection or other entry into your apartment.

Rights

Involving Resident Organizations

- The right to organize as residents without obstruction, harassment, or retaliation from property owners or management.
- The right to post materials in common areas and provide leaflets informing other residents of their rights and of opportunities to involve themselves in their project.
- The right, which may be subject to a reasonable, HUD-approved fee, to use appropriate common space or meeting facilities to organize or to consider any issue affecting the condition or management of the property.
- The right to meet without the owner/manager present.
- The right to be recognized by property owners and managers as having a voice in residential community affairs.

Rights

Involving Nondiscrimination

The right to equal and fair treatment and use of your building's services and facilities, without regard to race, color, religion, gender, disability, familial status (children under 18), national origin (ethnicity or language), or in some circumstances, age.

Your

Responsibilities

As a resident of a HUD-assisted multifamily housing project, you also have certain responsibilities to ensure that your building remains a suitable home for you and your neighbors. By signing your lease, you and the owner/management company have entered into a legal, enforceable contract. You and the owner/management company are responsible for complying with your lease, house rules, and local laws governing your property. If you have any questions about your lease or do not have a copy of it, contact your management agent or your local HUD field office.

Responsibilities

to Your Property Owner or Management Agent

- Complying with the rules and guidelines that govern your lease.
- Paying the correct amount of rent on a timely basis each month.
- Providing accurate information to the owner at the certification or recertification interview to determine your total tenant payment, and consenting to the release of information by a third party to allow for verification.
- Reporting changes in the family's income.

Responsibilities

to the Project and to Your Fellow Residents

- Conducting yourself in a manner that will not disturb your neighbors.
- Not engaging in criminal activity in the unit, common area, or grounds.
- Keeping your unit clean and not littering the grounds or common areas.
- Disposing of garbage and waste in a proper manner.
- Complying with local codes that affect the health or safety of the residence.
- Maintaining your apartment and common areas in the same general physical condition as when you moved in.
- Reporting any apparent environmental hazards to the management, such as peeling paint—which is a hazard if it is a lead-based paint—and any defects in building systems, fixtures, appliances, or other parts of the unit, the grounds, or related facilities.

Your

Participation is important

Residents in HUD-assisted multifamily housing can play an important role in decisions that affect their project. Different HUD programs provide for specific resident rights. You have the right to know under which HUD program your building is assisted. To find out if your apartment building is covered under any of the following categories, contact your management agent.

If your building was funded under Section 236, 221 (d)(3)/BMIR, Rent Supplement Program, Section 202 Direct Loan Program, Section 202/811 Capital Advance Programs, or is assisted under any applicable project-based Section 8 programs, and prior HUD approval is required before the owner can prepay, you have the right to participate in or be notified of, and comment on, the following:

- An increase in the maximum permissible rent.
- Conversion of a project from project-paid utilities to tenant-paid utilities or a reduction in tenant utility allowance.
- Conversion of residential units in a multifamily housing project to a nonresidential use or to condominiums, or the transfer of the project to a cooperative housing mortgagor corporation or association.
- Partial release of mortgage security.
- Capital improvements that represent a substantial addition to the project.
- Nonrenewal of a project-based Section 8 contract.
- Any other action which could ultimately lead to involuntary temporary or permanent relocation of residents.
- Prepayment of mortgage.

If your unit has a project-based Section 8 contract that is expiring or being terminated and will not be renewed, the assisted family may elect to remain in the same project in which the family was residing on the date of the eligibility event for the project. The family residing in an assisted unit may be eligible for an enhanced voucher. Owners must provide a 1-year notification of their intent to opt out of the Section 8 contract. Residents may use the Section 8 voucher in any building with rents in the allowable range. Eligible tenants can receive enhanced vouchers only if they remain in the same project in which they resided on the date the Section 8 contract was terminated. If an eligible tenant moves, they are eligible for a Section 8 voucher that is not enhanced. You also have the right to Relocation Counseling, where you can learn about housing options available to you.

Residents of HUD-assisted housing are our partners and partners in their communities. HUD regulations give residents the right to press for improved conditions by organizing independent resident associations. These associations encourage residents to become involved in the decisions that affect their homes without harassment or retaliation by property owners or management.
